SHIPS RUSH TO AID DEVASTATED CITY OF SANTO DOMINGO

NO WATER AVAILABLE, ELECTRICITY SHUT OFF, MARTIAL LAW DECLARED

GOVERNMENTS OF NATIONS OF PAN-AMERICAN UNION ASKED FOR AID

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Sept. 6.—The ancient and historical city of Santo Domingo was devastated Wednesday by what appears to be the worst hurricane that ever swept the Caribbean.

After 24 hours of continuous storm a north wind of hurricane violence, with an estimated velocity of 180 miles an hour, began about 3 o'clock that afternoon, unroofing the legation and destroying many houses.

A conservative estimate puts the loss of life at 1,500, with the number of injured reaching 5,000.

No loss of life was reported among continental Americans or Europeans and all are believed safe.

President Trujillo has taken personal charge, the city is under martial law and good order prevails.

Governor Theodore Roosevelt of Porto Rico dispatched personal representatives by airplane Thursday and is sending in behalf of the people of Porto Rico all available relief in the form of food, shelter, clothing and medical aid.

Yesterday a marine corps plane arrived from Port Au Prince, Haiti, with representatives of Colonel Cutts and is returning immediately to bring medical officers and all possible medical supplies. No shipping can enter Santo Domingo port because of the swiftness of the current and the fact that a dredge has been sunk in the channel.

The capital is isolated on the land side by floods, fallen trees and wrecked bridges. Electric light and water plants are disabled. The old cathedral and colonial monuments were practically undamaged.

The storm was confined to a 40-mile strip along the coast but damage extends inland indefinitely in a north-westerly direction. The sugar center at Boca Chica was reported completely destroyed.

Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, Sept. 6.—Santo Domingo City, felled by Wednesday afternoon's hurricane, presents an appalling spectacle of death and destruction.

I first surveyed the stricken capital from the air as I approached by plane from San Juan, Porto Rico. Later I walked through the debris-choked streets. On every side was chaos.

The structures man had raised in this centuries-old city fared even worse than man himself. The president estimated that 4,700 homes had been completely destroyed and 1,300 badly damaged. Thus 30,000 persons are homeless and forced to seek such meager shelter as is available.

Still standing is the ancient cathedral where, according to the popular, if mistaken legend, Christopher Columbus' remains are kept.

A number of colonial monuments and a mere handful of houses—perhaps 100—escaped serious damage.

Because of the enormous task facing the pitifully few volunteer workers and because of the necessity for speed, it was necessary to resort to mass incineration. Thursday night 300 bodies were burned as a sanitary measure and rescue squads still are piling up a great many more.

There is no water available, the electricity supply is still shut off and the food supply is becoming ever more scarce. Although the few messages that filter from interior towns, such as Santiago, La Vega and Mooca, report no such disaster as was visited upon the capital, roads were impassable to the inland.

This meant officials were balked in trying to transport provisions toward the sea and the necessity for speedy arrival of relief ships was emphasized. President Trujillo, who took personal charge of the situation is exerting every effort toward resumption of water and food supplies.

I was amazed to see the lack of disorders. The capital has been placed under martial law, with the military instructed to halt any pillaging.

Governor Theodore Roosevelt of Porto Rico is co-operating in the sending of relief. Ships with food and other much-needed supplies are expected soon. Tents, medical aid and

Visit to Barber Gains Youth His Freedom from Jail and Girls

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—John Igorski, 26, alias Jack Lamar, paid with his sideburns and mustache today for freedom from jail. Arrested on a statutory charge, Igorski told Judge Shaughnessy that dancing was a mania with him and that girls apparently were attracted by his slick hair, his mustache and long sideburns.

After ordering the youth to adopt his real name and visit a barber, Judge Shaughnessy agreed to place him on probation for two years.

TO PROBE REPORTS OF WAGE CUTS IN RIVER CONTRACTS

HURLEY DIRECTS THE PRESENT LEVEL OF WAGES ON FEDERAL JOBS BE MAINTAINED

65,000 WORKMEN EMPLOYED BY PRIVATE CONTRACTORS ARE AFFECTED

By JOSEPH H. BAIRD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Aboard Steamboat General Allen on the Mississippi, Sept. 6.—Secretary of War Hurley today ordered a complete investigation into reports that private contractors doing work for the federal government on the Mississippi and Missouri rivers are reducing wages below the level prevailing when their contracts were secured.

Hurley also issued an order to Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of engineers, directing that the present level of wages paid by the government for river work be maintained.

The investigation and order became known as the secretary of war, now inspecting the entire Mississippi, near St. Louis. He had been invited to speak there today at a luncheon given by the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.

Lieut. Col. George R. Spaulding, U. S. division engineer for the upper Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers, was appointed by Hurley to investigate and report immediately on the alleged exploitation of labor. The secretary's action was based on several reports, one of which said one contractor, having received his award when common labor was being paid 45 cents an hour, had since reduced this wage to 25 cents.

Questioned regarding the government's own wage scale for river work, both Hurley and Brown, who is with the secretary, explained it was based on the general average wage in the vicinity where the men were employed.

The secretary's action precluded the possibility of any government agents lowering the present level. The order read:

"Chief of engineers, war department, Washington, D. C.—Current wages will be maintained at present level for all hired labor in the engineering department during the remainder of the fiscal year. Notify all concerned."

This fiscal year expires June 30, 1931. Hurley said there was no legal way by which the government could force private contractors to pay certain wages. He pointed out, however, that he was calling on them to fulfill what he considered a patriotic duty by maintaining the pay scale existent at the time their contracts were awarded and upon which they based their labor estimates.

General Brown said today there were 65,000 workmen employed by private contractors on rivers in this country, but it was impossible to say how many were affected by Hurley's action.

clothing are high on the list of necessities. Dr. A. Fernos Isern, under-commissioner of health of Porto Rico and chairman of the American Red Cross chapter in San Juan, will be in charge of a medical staff numbering 36 doctors and nurses.

The Red Cross has put the sum of $15,000 at the disposal of the American minister for emergency relief but as I made a preliminary survey I doubt that this would be enough to supply even the most acute needs.

Further outside aid is badly needed. (Editor's note—An additional $15,000 has been set aside at Washington.)

Washington, Sept. 6.—A resolution recommending that the governments of the 21 member nations of the Pan-American Union adopt measures of aiding the Dominican Republic to recover from its hurricane disaster was adopted today at an extraordinary session of the board of governors of the union.

FORD TERMS SLUMP AS ILLNESS, SEES A GRADUAL RECOVERY

COUNTRY TO PROFIT BY IT; MAKES PEOPLE THINK, HE AVERS

PROHIBITION HERE TO STAY DESPITE DAMP SPOTS, MANUFACTURER DECLARES

New York, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Henry Ford believes America is economically sick, but that the illness is not nearly so severe as it was prior to a few months ago.

Ford discussed the nation's financial malady early today just before he sailed on the North German Lloyd liner Bremen for a six weeks' motor tour of Germany.

It took a long time to get sick, he said. The illness was brought on by frenzied speculation in the stock market. And, by the same token, it will take as long for the cure.

"But it's a good thing the recovery is prolonged," he said. "Otherwise, the people wouldn't profit by the illness. It will take just as long to get well as it took to get sick, and when it's all over, we'll know things we did not know before."

"I am inclined to view the matter optimistically because I can see that people are thinking now. Everybody is thinking now. And that's something they didn't do last year, or even two years ago. Very few people thought then. That is, they thought only of one thing. They thought of buying and selling stock."

"We've got plenty of business now simply because we didn't go dabbling in stocks. We were working and working hard when the others were fooling around with the market. After all, the only thing that makes business is somebody's thoughts—the creating of something, or designing of something. You're not creating anything when you're selling stock."

Ford was asked for an opinion on the United States' attitude toward Soviet Russia.

"Why, it doesn't matter," he said, waving his hand. "It really doesn't make much difference one way or the other."

He argued with newspapermen on the subject of prohibition, insisting that the country is dry and going to stay dry.

"Yes, in Detroit," he was asked. "Yes, even in Detroit," he snapped. "You'll find a damp spot, perhaps, here and there. But America is dry and prohibition is here to stay."

He was asked if he intends to manufacture six-cylinder Fords. His eyes twinkled.

"I've got more important news for you than that," he said. "I'm building a hotel near Dearborn for rumors."

TAMMANY LEADER ACCUSED OF GRAFT

TUTTLE TRIES TO PROVE MAGISTRY SOLD FOR $12,000

New York, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Charges that a Tammany leader accused of selling a magistracy for $12,000 paid 10 per cent commission to the man who acted as his collector brought a hitherto untouched angle into the city graft inquiry today.

U. S. Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, who has been examining the bank accounts of a number of city officials in an effort to prove his graft allegations, has forwarded to State Attorney General Ward evidence which he said led him to this conclusion.

Tuttle said he found that Thomas J. Tommaney, former sheriff's clerk who arranged the $10,000 transaction which Mrs. Bertha Ewald described as a loan to Martin J. Healy, Tammany district leader, received from Healy a check for $1,200.

Strange coincidences in the transactions, Tuttle said, were that the "loan" to Healy was made at the time George F. Ewald assumed his post as city magistrate, and that the $1,200 payment represented 10 per cent of this "loan," added to another $2,000 payment Healy is alleged to have received from Jacob Cash, former city marshal.

GUNMEN MURDER HOTEL CUSTOMER

THREE HOLD UP HOSTELRY, SHOOT MAN AND SLUG POLICEMAN

Milwaukee, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Every available officer in two counties was called into service today to join in an attempt to capture three gunmen who held up the Meeker hotel in Washington county, murdered John Frey, 18, a customer, and slugged a Milwaukee policeman and escaped in his squad car.

Fred and Martha Rademan, daughter of the hotel proprietor, were alone in the hotel when the bandits entered. When Frey attempted to escape he was shot in the head and chest and died instantly.

FARMER SHOTS MAN STEALING CHICKENS

Chicago, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Lyle Stephenson, a farmer living near Darien, Wis., last night shot William Pohlman when he surprised the latter stealing chickens on the Stephenson farm, Jack Morris, of Walworth, Wis., told police today.

Morris brought Pohlman to a Chicago hospital during the night and police arrested him until they could clear up his account of the shooting.

FATHER HAGEN DIES IN VATICAN CITY

Vatican City, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Father John Hagen, the only American-born citizen of the Vatican state, died today after a brief illness. Father Hagen had been in charge of the pontifical observatory for many years and it had been long since he had visited the United States.

Officials Accused of 'Shaving' Interest Charges Due City

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—A statement that two officials of the Albany city treasurer's office admitted they "shaved" interest charges that were due the city from taxpayers, was made today by District Attorney John J. Delaney.

This followed announcement yesterday by George Z. Medalle, counsel assigned for the special legislative commission investigating the methods of assessing property in Albany, that the city treasury has lost thousands of dollars through the "juggling" of tax payments.

ROBBED OF JEWELS VALUED AT $100,000

THREE WEALTHY COUPLES HELD UP BY FIVE MEN IN EVANSTON

Chicago, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Three wealthy couples, returning to their homes from a night club, were held up by five men in Evanston today and robbed of jewels valued at approximately $100,000.

The victims were Jason F. Whitney, president of Kraft-Phoenix Cheese Corporation, and Mrs. Whitney; Oliver A. Blackburn, secretary of the same concern, and Mrs. Blackburn; James Hewitt, Manchester, England, who is visiting at the Whitney home, and Mrs. Gladys S. Mehan, in front of whose home the robbery occurred.

Leaving the Coffee Dan night club in the Chicago loop between 1 and 2 o'clock, the couples went direct to Mrs. Mehan's Evanston home. They believe the gunmen saw them leave the cafe and followed them from the loop.

As the Whitney chauffeur held open the door for Mrs. Mehan to leave the car, the bandits drew alongside and demanded that all jewelry be turned over without delay.

Two of the men, impatient because they thought Mrs. Whitney too slow in removing a bracelet, stepped inside the car and searched all the occupants. One of them attempted to pull a bracelet from Mrs. Whitney's arm, but when she complained that he was hurting her, he waited and she removed and handed it to him herself.

From Mrs. Whitney the bandits took a diamond ring said to be worth $50,000 and three bracelets valued at $40,000. The other women also lost valuable rings and several hundred dollars in cash was taken from the men.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ENDORSES MRS. O'NEILL

Chicago, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—The Anti-Saloon league denounced Ruth Hanna McCormick, republican senatorial candidate, for betraying the dries, and gave its endorsement today to Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, the independent dry opponent of Mrs. McCormick and of James Hamilton Lewis, the wet democratic candidate.

At the same time, in a statement issued by F. Scott McBride, the league called upon its adherents in Illinois to ignore the prohibition repeal referendum that will be conducted at the November election.

PLANE CRASH FATAL TO THREE IN STATE

BARNSTORMING TOUR ENDS IN DISASTER WHEN PLANE HITS WATER TOWER

Zumbrota, Minn., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Striking a water tower after rising from an improvised landing field, a barnstorming airplane crashed at Wanamingo, near here, late yesterday killing two passengers and fatally injuring the pilot.

The dead were Arnold Morkre, 24, and Alfred Lund, 24, both of Wanamingo. Henry Dahlen, Mora, pilot of the plane died at a Rochester hospital today.

Dahlen came to Wanamingo on a barnstorming exhibition tour. Because the town had no landing field he was forced to use a vacant field near the town.

In taking off he failed to allow for the 125-foot watertower. A wing of the plane struck the tank and the plane fell instantly, crashing near the main street of the town. Morkre and Lund were killed instantly.

Dahlen was extricated from the hospital where he died.

LEVIATHAN SINKS LIGHTER IN HARBOR

FLAGSHIP OF U. S. LINES UNDAUNTED, CONTINUES OUTBOUND FOR EUROPE

New York, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—The Leviathan, flagship of the United States Lines, collided with Pennsylvania lighter No. 123 in New York harbor today and the lighter sank.

The Leviathan was outbound for Europe.

Officials of the United States Lines said the Leviathan was undamaged, and after a slight delay, proceeded to sea.

BUDD TO RECOMMEND NEW RAIL EQUIPMENT FOR RUSSIAN ROADS

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—A program of improvement urging the adoption of automatic couplings, air brakes, larger cars, longer trains, heavier ties and firmer tracks will be recommended to the Soviet government by Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern railroad, who has spent the past three months in Russia studying railroad conditions there.

This information was contained in a letter received by an intimate friend here. Budd was scheduled to arrive in Seattle last night and will be in St. Paul Wednesday.

"Application of automatic couplings would be the first step I would take in improving the Russian railways," he stated.

"At the same time I would equip the freight cars with air brakes as rapidly as practical. The adoption of larger cars would be a great improvement and would be economical inasmuch as less than half as many cars would be required and the cost of couplings and brakes would be reduced correspondingly."

Budd was impressed by the willingness of the Soviet government to adopt every improved facility as soon as shown that they are practical for their transportation system.

40,000 REBELS STORM CAPITAL; COUNTRY INCITED

DEMAND RETIREMENT OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE PERMANENTLY

SEVERAL KILLED WHEN MOB ATTACKS NEWSPAPER OFFICES

Buenos Aires, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—A revolutionary movement against the administration of President Hipolito Irigoyen was started today and gained rapid headway. Most of the police force joined the uprising, throwing their strength with heavy troop concentrations outside the city under command of General Jose Uriburu.

Fighting broke out in the streets between police and demonstrators who renewed the rioting that occurred last night when President Irigoyen announced he had temporarily delegated his powers to the vice president, Rerique V. Martinez.

The situation was considered most serious when several regiments quartered in the capital indicated they might oppose the revolutionary forces, which were reported advancing closer to the city.

An infantry regiment was reported on the march toward Buenos Aires from LaPlata to join the rebels. Aviation forces joined the revolution.

Several persons were killed when a mob attacked the offices of the newspaper La Epoca, organ of Irigoyen, and many more were wounded in the fighting with police.

Police continued to clash with demonstrators throughout the central part of the city, although in many cases the authorities made no effort to break up the manifestations.

The crowd shouted "Viva General Uriburu!" Casualties were not immediately determined.

All business was closed and the president remained in his residence, surrounded by heavy guards. He has been ill recently.

General Uriburu left Campo de Mayo this morning at the head of 40,000 troops, demanding the retirement of Irigoyen permanently.

Revolutionary airplanes armed with machine guns flew over the capital, dropping thousands of leaflets inviting the population to join the revolution. The leaflets were signed by a "military junta" or committee, which led the revolutionary movement.

The municipal "security squadron" revolted and named Crosso Sotto as chief of police. The police started forcibly searching houses in the capital.

A large part of the navy was in the harbor but it was not immediately determined what role the warships would have in the movement. Many troops have been concentrated in the federal district in the last two weeks.

All of the troops concentrated at Campo de Mayo joined the revolution. About 500 persons carrying national banners gathered at the foot of the Spanish monument, all of them shouting against the government and waiting to cheer the troops in the march into the capital.

The rumor was circulated that Figueroa Alcorta would take charge of the presidency of the republic.

The military school was encamped on the Avenue America, near Palermo. The foreign minister, Horacio B. Cyhanario, was seen leaving the government house after a hurried conference there. The minister of war announced his loyalty to the government.

It was said Cyhanario would be replaced by Rodriguez Larreta. There were many signs of unrest and discontent throughout the capital.

The building of the official newspaper La Epoca was attacked by a mob. Although street fighting was spasmodic and of a minor nature for the most part, early reports said many persons were hurt, some of them fatally.

ALLEN TO UNDERGO MAJOR OPERATION

Wichita, Kan., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Senator Henry J. Allen will be taken to Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, where he will undergo a major operation by Dr. George S. Young, world renowned surgeon, it was learned at his home today.

State rooms have been reserved on the Missouri Pacific Southwestern Special, scheduled to leave Wichita at 6 p. m. The reservations were made by Dr. E. S. Edgerton, who will accompany the senator to Baltimore.

EIGHT ARE KILLED IN POWDER PLANT BLAST

Nancy, France, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—An explosion wrecked a gunpowder plant at the village of Aubou near Briey today, killing at least eight persons and injuring many others.

All the buildings, wherein there were many workers, were wrecked. The plant manufactured coal mine cartridges.

Experts at Tromsø believed it might have belonged to the Italia expedition. One party from the Italia was rescued but another was blown away over the ice with the dirigible's balloon.

TAMMANY LEADER ACCUSED OF GRAFT

TUTTLE TRIES TO PROVE MAGISTRY SOLD FOR $12,000

New York, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Charges that a Tammany leader accused of selling a magistracy for $12,000 paid 10 per cent commission to the man who acted as his collector brought a hitherto untouched angle into the city graft inquiry today.

U. S. Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, who has been examining the bank accounts of a number of city officials in an effort to prove his graft allegations, has forwarded to State Attorney General Ward evidence which he said led him to this conclusion.

Tuttle said he found that Thomas J. Tommaney, former sheriff's clerk who arranged the $10,000 transaction which Mrs. Bertha Ewald described as a loan to Martin J. Healy, Tammany district leader, received from Healy a check for $1,200.

Strange coincidences in the transactions, Tuttle said, were that the "loan" to Healy was made at the time George F. Ewald assumed his post as city magistrate, and that the $1,200 payment represented 10 per cent of this "loan," added to another $2,000 payment Healy is alleged to have received from Jacob Cash, former city marshal.

ROBBED OF JEWELS VALUED AT $100,000

THREE WEALTHY COUPLES HELD UP BY FIVE MEN IN EVANSTON

Chicago, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Three wealthy couples, returning to their homes from a night club were held up by five men in Evanston today and robbed of jewels valued at approximately $100,000.

The victims were Jason F. Whitney, president of Kraft-Phenix Cheese Corporation, and Mrs. Whitney; Oliver A. Blackburn, secretary of the same concern, and Mrs. Blackburn; James Hewitt, Manchester, England, who is visiting at the Whitney home, and Mrs. Gladys S. Mehan, in front of whose home the robbery occurred.

Leaving the Coffee Dan night club in the Chicago loop between 1 and 2 o'clock, the couples went direct to Mrs. Mehan's Evanston home. They believe the gunmen saw them leave the cafe and followed them from the loop.

As the Whitney chauffeur held open the door for Mrs. Mehan to leave the car, the bandits drew alongside and demanded that all jewelry be turned over without delay.

Two of the men, impatient because they thought Mrs. Whitney too slow in removing a bracelet, stepped inside the car and searched all the occupants. One of them attempted to pull a bracelet from Mrs. Whitney's arm, but when she complained that he was hurting her, he waited and she removed and handed it to him herself. From Mrs. Whitney the bandits took a diamond ring said to be worth $50,000 and three bracelets valued at $40,000. The other women also lost valuable rings and several hundred dollars in cash was taken from the men.

PLANE CRASH FATAL TO THREE IN STATE

BARNSTORMING TOUR ENDS IN DISASTER WHEN PLANE HITS WATER TOWER

Zumbrota, Minn., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Striking a water tower after rising from an improvised landing field, a barnstorming airplane crashed at Wanamingo, near here, late yesterday killing two passengers and fatally injuring the pilot.

The dead were Arnold Morkre, 24, and Alfred Lundhe, 24, both of Wanamingo. Henry Dahlen, Mora, pilot of the plane died at a Rochester hospital today.

Dahlen came to Wanamingo on a barnstorming exhibition tour. Because the town had no landing field he was forced to use a vacant field near the town.

In taking off he failed to allow for the 125-foot water tower. A wing of the plane struck the tank and the plane fell instantly, crashing near the main street of the town. Morkre and Lundhe were killed instantly.

Dahlen was extricated from the hospital where he died.

BUDD TO RECOMMEND NEW RAIL EQUIPMENT FOR RUSSIAN ROADS

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—A program of improvement urging the adoption of automatic couplings, air brakes, larger cars, longer trains, heavier ties and firmer tracks will be recommended to the Soviet government by Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern railroad, who has spent the past three months in Russia studying railroad conditions there.

This information was contained in a letter received by an intimate friend here. Budd was scheduled to arrive in Seattle last night and will be in St. Paul Wednesday.

"Application of automatic couplings would be the first step I would take in improving the Russian railways," he stated.

"At the same time I would equip the freight cars with air brakes as rapidly as practical. The adoption of larger cars would be a great improvement and would be economical inasmuch as less than half as many cars would be required and the cost of couplings and brakes would be reduced correspondingly."

Budd was impressed by the willingness of the Soviet government to adopt every improved facility as soon as shown that they are practical for their transportation system.

40,000 REBELS STORM CAPITAL; COUNTRY INCITED

DEMAND RETIREMENT OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE PERMANENTLY

SEVERAL KILLED WHEN MOB ATTACKS NEWSPAPER OFFICES

Buenos Aires, Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—A revolutionary movement against the administration of President Hipolito Irigoyen was started today and gained rapid headway. Most of the police force joined the uprising, throwing their strength with heavy troop concentrations outside the city under command of General Jose Uriburu.

Fighting broke out in the streets between police and demonstrators who renewed the rioting that occurred last night when President Irigoyen announced he had temporarily delegated his powers to the vice president, Riquie V. Martinez.

The situation was considered most serious when several regiments quartered in the capital indicated they might oppose the revolutionary forces, which were reported advancing closer to the city.

An infantry regiment was reported on the march toward Buenos Aires from LaPlata to join the rebels. Aviation forces joined the revolution.

Several persons were killed when a mob attacked the offices of the newspaper La Epoca, organ of Irigoyen, and many more were wounded in the fighting with police.

Police continued to clash with demonstrators throughout the central part of the city, although in many cases the authorities made no effort to break up the manifestations.

The crowd shouted "Viva General Uriburu!"

Casualties were not immediately determined.

All business was closed and the president remained in his residence, surrounded by heavy guards. He has been ill recently.

General Uriburu left Campo De Mayo this morning at the head of 40,000 troops, demanding the retirement of Irigoyen permanently.

Revolutionary airplanes armed with machine guns flew over the capital, dropping thousands of leaflets inviting the population to join the revolution. The leaflets were signed by a "military junta" or committee, which led the revolutionary movement.

The municipal "security squadron" revolted and named Crosso Sotto as chief of police. The police started forcibly searching houses in the capital.

A large part of the navy was in the harbor but it was not immediately determined what role the warships would have in the movement. Many troops have been concentrated in the federal district in the last two weeks. All of the troops concentrated at Campo De Mayo joined the revolution. About 500 persons carrying national banners gathered at the foot of the Spanish monument, all of them shouting against the government and waiting to cheer the troops in the march into the capital.

The rumor was circulated that Figueroa Alcorta would take charge of the presidency of the republic.

The military school was encamped on the Avenue America, near Palermo. The foreign minister, Horacio B. Cayanarte, was seen leaving the government house after a hurried conference there. The minister of war announced his loyalty to the government.

It was said Cayanarte would be replaced by Rodriguez Larreta. There were many signs of unrest and discontent throughout the capital.

The building of the official newspaper La Epoca was attacked by a mob. Although street fighting was spasmodic and of a minor nature for the most part, early reports said many persons were hurt, some of them fatally.

Mrs. Margaret Lusso, Brainerd Route 2, enters National Canning Contest; Cash Prizes

Mrs. Margaret Lusso of Route 2 has entered the National Canning Contest, which is to be held in Shenandoah, Iowa, on October 1st, to pick America's 1936 champion home canner.

The contest is sponsored by the Household Science Institute of Chicago, in co-operation with a number of public-spirited groups as a means of focusing the attention of American housewives on the economy and healthfulness of home canned foods. $4,250 in cash, cups and ribbons await the 470 winners, including a grand sweepstakes award of $600 in cash. Henry Field, Shenandoah farmer, merchant and KENF announcer, is president of the contest.

Not the extent of her canning but the quality of the finished product will be the basis on which the champion canner of 1936 will be chosen. The winners will be selected from among the entrants in the Shenandoah contest.

The contest is open to every woman and girl. There are no restrictions as to the nature of the food sent. Contestants may enter the fruit, vegetables and meat divisions, any two of these divisions, or all three. Any preferred method for canning may be used although the Government Department of Agriculture finds that the hot-pack method together with the use of a pressure cooker for the sterilizing is best, especially for the meats and non-acid vegetables.

The list of contest judges includes five of America's outstanding home economics experts and nutrition authorities, headed by Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture. A sample ball-mason jar, together with prize entry labels and all information on the contest, may be secured without cost simply by writing to the National Canning Contest, Shenandoah, Iowa.

KIDNAPED GAMBLER
RETURNS TO HIS HOME

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 6.—(UP)—John T. Soy, 65-year-old gambler, who was kidnaped on Aug. 29, returned to his home today and was reported "in a state of collapse, too ill to talk."

Members of his family said Soy drove up to the house in a taxi-cab at 8 a. m., had to be helped in, and refused to discuss the kidnaping.

Since Soy was taken from his automobile near a Mississippi river bridge approach a week ago, his captors have several times telephoned associates of the gambler that he was ill and asked $60,000 ransom for his release.

Search for the kidnapers was futile, although reports were they had toured through Illinois with their captive.

LOCAL WOMAN SEEKS A NATIONAL TITLE

Mrs. Margaret Lusso, Brainerd Route 2, enters National Canning Contest; Cash Prizes

Mrs. Margaret Lusso of Route 2 has entered the National Canning Contest, which is to be held in Shenandoah, Iowa, on October 1st, to pick America's 1930 champion home canner. The contest is sponsored by the Household Science Institute of Chicago, in co-operation with a number of public-spirited groups as a means of focusing the attention of American housewives on the economy and healthfulness of home canned foods. $4,250 in cash, cups and ribbons await the 470 winners, including a grand sweepstakes award of $500 in cash. Henry Field, Shenandoah farmer, merchant and KENF announcer, is president of the contest.

Not the extent of her canning but the quality of the finished product will be the basis on which the champion canner of 1930 will be chosen. The winners will be selected from among the entrants in the Shenandoah contest. The contest is open to every woman and girl. There are no restrictions as to the nature of the food sent. Contestants may enter the fruit, vegetables and meat divisions, any two of these divisions, or all three. Any preferred method of canning may be used although the Government Department of Agriculture finds that the hot-pack method together with the use of a pressure cooker for the sterilizing is best, especially for the meats and non-acid vegetables.

The list of contest judges includes five of America's outstanding home economics experts and nutrition authorities, headed by Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture. A sample ball-mason jar, together with prize entry labels and all information on the contest, may be secured without cost simply by writing to the National Canning Contest, Shenandoah, Iowa.

BRAINERD 25 Years Ago

September 3, 1905

Frank, Francis and Fred Britton of this city, who were members of the Minnesota state team in the national shooting event at Sea Girt, N. J., have returned to this city and are very much enthused after their experiences there. The Minnesota team stood 13th at the shoot, and fourth in the 1,000 yard event. Two of the Britton brothers were second and third in the team the other taking 11th place.

The schools of the city opened yesterday morning, and the enrollment by tomorrow will reach about 1,800.

Pat O'Connor has leased the corner store room in the Pearce block and has opened a new saloon.

Robert Wood, brother of the barber, brought in a large bear from Mission Lake which weighed 250 lbs. The bear was killed two days ago. It is reported there are a large number of bear in Crow Wing county this fall. Miss Maybelle Grewcox left today for Valley City where she will visit with relatives for a short time. Mrs. D. K. Fullerton left for the Twin Cities this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. George Moody have gone to St. Paul to take in the State Fair.

KIDNAPED GAMBLER

RETURNS TO HIS HOME

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 6.—(UP)—John T. Soy, 65-year-old gambler, who was kidnaped on Aug. 28, returned to his home today and was reported "in a state of collapse, too ill to talk."

Members of his family said Soy drove up to the house in a taxi-cab at 8 a. m., had to be helped in, and refused to discuss the kidnaping.

Since Soy was taken from his automobile near a Mississippi river bridge approach a week ago, his captors have several times telephoned associates of the gambler that he was ill and asked $80,000 ransom for his release.

Search for the kidnapers was futile, although reports were they had toured through Illinois with their captive.

Baltimore Boy Slays Master

Sixteen-year-old Richard Thompson, in custody of policeman, confessed to weird story of how he killed his employer, Herbert Wetters, president of the United Extract Company, and then placed the body in a barrel containing 20 gallons of vanilla extract. The boy said he committed the crime August 1 while in a semi-intoxicated condition. Thompson feared that the $500 check he had forged would be brought to light.

"Oriental" Rugs
Indistinguishable from rugs made in Persia, oriental floor coverings have been made in Germany for more than 75 years. Early in the 1850's a party of Germans was sent to Persia to master the details of the art. They returned to Cottbus, near Berlin, and the product of the hands and looms found their way principally to America. Only in 1913 was machinery introduced, when it was found that the work could be done not only faster but better than by hand. Most of those sent to America are sold as "Smyrna" rugs. They are, however, it is claimed, much finer in appearance than those really made in Smyrna.

Ladybird Protects Plants
The ladybird, one of the common beetles of the garden, is man's ally against one of the pests which are ever ready to attack the tender new shoots of trees, roots and plants—the aphids. The ladybirds are a natural enemy of the aphids, and will consume great quantities of them in the course of a season. There are varieties of beetles closely resembling the ladybirds in shape and size which are leaf eaters, however, and present a pest in themselves.

Employment Standards for Women

No progressive employer manages his plant without his machines kept in good running order, but less consideration has been given to the needs of the human factor in industry, Miss Mary Anderson, Director of the Women's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, points out.

"Proper working conditions by bringing health and happiness to the worker repay the employer in dividends of money, goodwill and the efficiency of his employees," Miss Anderson says, "and it is the aim of the Women's Bureau to present facts which will aid both employer and worker in meeting the problems arising from the needs of the woman worker."

"The Women's Bureau has no powers of law enforcement. Throughout its 12-year existence, first as a War Service and later as a bureau in the Department of Labor, it has been a scientific organization. Standard making and fact-finding have been its dual purpose set forth in the bill passed by congress which created it."

"The standards suggested by the Women's Bureau as a guide to the proper employment conditions of women are far from radical and are not new and untried theories. Many employers had adopted such standards long before the Women's Bureau came into existence and had found them profitable both to themselves and to the workers."

These standards formulated by the bureau, in conjunction with employers and with labor, include: The 8-hour day; the Saturday half-holiday; rest periods; clean, well-aired, well-lighted workrooms; guarded machinery and other safety precautions; adequate and sanitary service facilities; wages based on the job and not on sex—and the many other conditions that are requisites for a healthful, happy work-a-day life.

"Understanding and knowing through scientific investigations under what conditions women are employed and presenting these facts to the public," Miss Anderson said, "constitute the fact-finding service of the Women's Bureau."

"Although in the bureau studies, working conditions are often found in conformity and even better than the standards advocated by the bureau, conditions have also been found which did not approach them in any way. Long hours, poor pay, unhealthy working conditions, the absence of humane employment policies—which would be a means of constructive help in the present period of unemployment, are all too frequent characteristics of the industrial situation of today."

"If more employers could realize the importance of the human factor within their gates and would watch and follow the experiments in proper working conditions which have brought goodwill and efficiency to the more progressive leaders, instead of following in the old ways as long as things are running smoothly, there would be less of the industrial trouble today so inevitable."

"The old proverb 'Three is none so blind as one who will not see,' can be applied to many cases in our industrial life."

"The facts presented through the investigations of the Women's Bureau should assist both workers and employers in understanding and overcoming unsatisfactory industrial conditions and they are presented in that spirit—the spirit of helpfulness to all."

Bad Economics

GOVERNOR FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT of New York says "We are paying the penalty now for going off on a wild spree based on uneconomic, unscientific, unbusinesslike foundations."

This is as true of individuals and families as it is of the public. The other day a woman came into an office on some errand, and seeing the bookkeeper she asked that lady if she would help her a moment. She had been married nineteen years, had three children, and never until the last month, when her husband was seriously ill, had she kept any account of the money passing through her hands. Her husband's brothers, taking temporary hold, insisted on checks and records, that everything might be shipshape for the husband after convalescence, or for her in case of his death.

A friend suggested that household account book given away by a bank. The bookkeeper looked once at the lady's crooked page and said that was too hard to begin on. After an hour of laborious explanation the woman was started on a fresh little ten-cent book with a page for income and one for outgo.

The friend was appalled. She, too, had been married nineteen years, for all but a few months of which her records were available. She tried to make her accounts as simple and foolproof as possible, and had rather blamed herself for not having a more detailed record. But given ten minutes, she could always find out what, with a rough accuracy, had been spent for food, clothing, operating, education, luxuries, in any year or quarter.

The first woman's family finances had been going from bad to worse; she blamed her husband for not earning more. The friend's had been going from fair to better; she thought her husband a wonder.

It had never occurred to the friend that any woman of any sort of family dignity could fail to keep some account of her stewardship any more than that she should fail to arrange for proper food and clothing for her children.

What about an account book for every hope chest, and a little talk with the bank for every bride?

Probing Hijackers

NEWSPAPERS have rendered invaluable assistance to the federal government and other agencies in the wars against dishonest advertising and other unfair trade practices. Few newspapers are without some form of advertising censorship of their own.

Now the newspapers have furnished the information upon which the postoffice department is investigating attempts at the so-called blackjacking of newspaper publishers into printing as reading matter, or as editorials, publicity material properly coming under the heading of advertising.

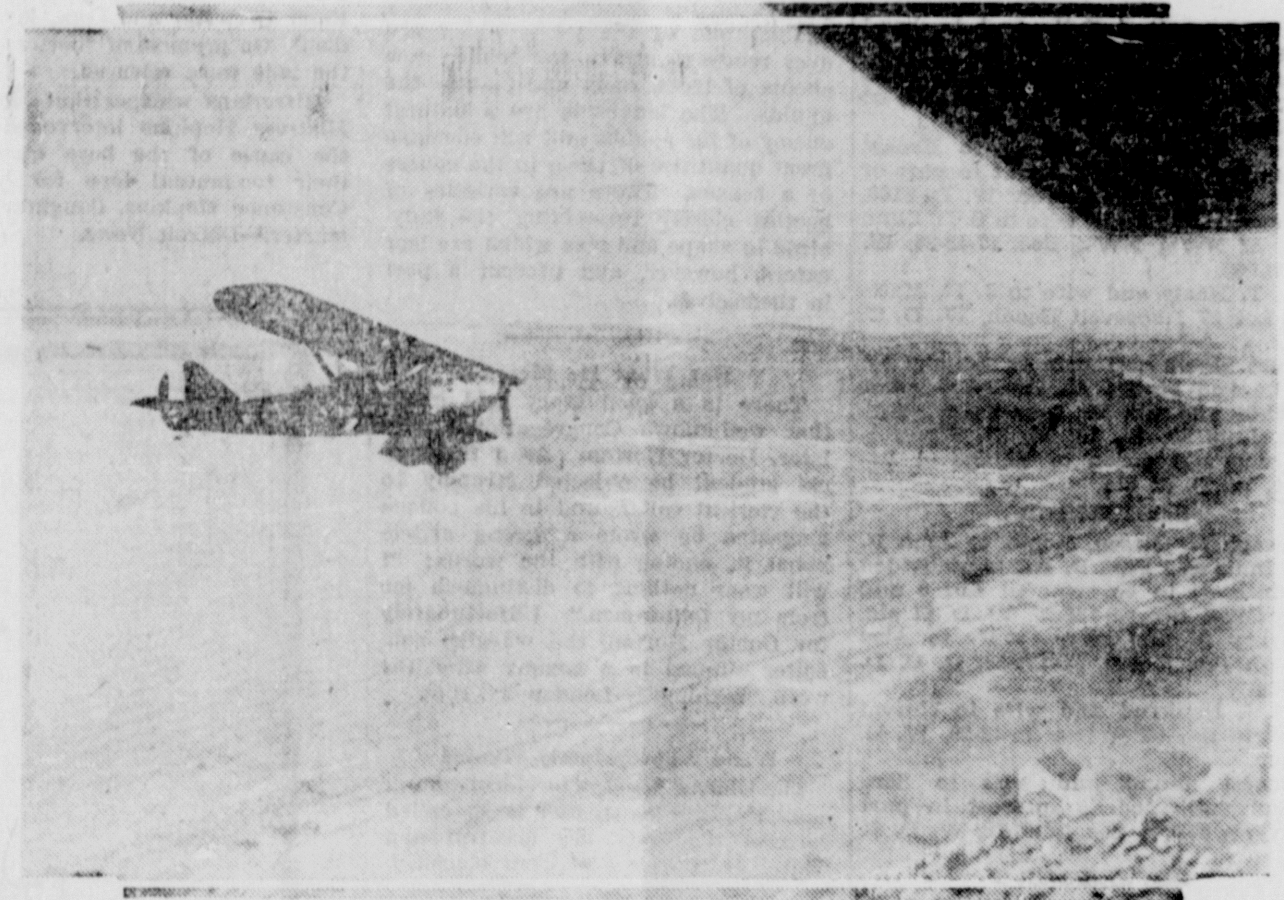

Certain advertisers and advertising agencies have sought to force newspapers to publish their publicity hand-outs as news by threatening to withhold or withdraw fat advertising contracts. Instead of accepting the bribes, the publishers have placed the matter before the postoffice department.

The practice warrants investigation for a number of reasons. For one thing, the reading public is entitled to know whether it is reading news or propaganda. Moreover there are the federal postal laws to be upheld. Newspapers rightfully demand protection against this form of blackjacking.

100 TO REPORT FOR 'U' GRID CALL SEPT. 15

McGraw Highest Paid Manager in Baseball

At the highest salary ever paid the manager of a baseball team, a yearly stipend second only to that received by Babe Ruth, John J. McGraw has signed for another five years. Beginning January 1, it is reported his salary will be increased to $70,000 annually.

McGraw points more than his nearest rival, Chuck Klein, Philadelphia, who has 229. McGraw's batting average is .307, 13 points ahead of his closest competitor, Al Simmons of the Athletics, who is hitting .385.

Early in the season McGraw led the American league pitchers, with 24 victories and 5 defeats for a mark of .833. Pat Malone of the Cubs tops the national league pitchers with 17 victories and 7 defeats for an average of .705.

The New York teams lead their respective leagues in club batting, the Giants with an average of .323 and the Yankees with an average of .307. The Athletics top the American league in club fielding with a mark of .975 and the Cincinnati Reds lead the national league in the same department with a mark of .974.

FREEMAN CROWNED WELTER CHAMPION

OUTPOINTED JACK THOMPSON IN 15-ROUND CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT

Cleveland, O., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Tommy Freeman of Hot Springs, Ark., wore the crown of the world's welterweight championship today after outpointing Young Jack Thompson, in a 15-round bout last night.

Taking the offensive at the outset, Freeman swept the champion off his feet with rushes, long and short range punching, that won for him all but five of the rounds. One of these was a draw and the remaining four went to the champion. The decision of Patsey Haley, veteran New York referee, carried with it the approval of 15,000 fans.

Freeman displayed a gameness and anxiety to mix that confounded the negro title holder. The latter assumed the defensive in the first but a long left swing in the second that sent the challenger to the floor for the count of six, gave him an impetus to take the offensive that was only short-lived.

The stadium field is a wonderful shape with the grass as firm and luxuriant as the finest golf course. Careful and constant attention preserved the field from any drought ravages.

The Dispatch has on hand for distribution folders giving scheduled and ticket information. Stanford and Northwestern will be sell-outs and the demand for tickets for the other games is exceeding expectations.

NEW SHOULDER PADS OSCILLATE AND DISTRIBUTE BRUNT OF ANY HEAVY SHOCK THERE

MINNESOTA U COACH SPENT A SHORT VACATION IN LAKE REGION LAST MONTH

Close to 100 men have been called by Coach Fritz Crisler of the University of Minnesota to report for football practice beginning September 15. In the list are some from the vicinity of Brainerd, including Elmer Apmann of St. Cloud, Patrick Boland of Duluth, Mervin Dillner of Duluth, James W. Dennerly of Aitkin, William E. Farrell of Grand Rapids, Kenneth Gay of Moose Lake, Harry B. Hall of Little Falls, Sulo O. Koski of International Falls, Merle L. Newberg of Wilmar, Howard Nichols of St. Cloud, John P. Somers of International Falls.

The new equipment has arrived and Oscar Munson and his assistants were sorting it out. Coach Crisler in talking with a Brainerd Dispatch representative, called attention to the new style shoulder pads which carry the brunt of an attack and distribute the shock above, below and at the point of the shoulder and chest.

Crisler is acquainted with Brainerd, the lake country, Camp Lincoln, and what northern Minnesota has done in the way of making university football history. Mr. and Mrs. Crisler are friends of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Owens and were their guests some weeks ago at their cottage at Parkerville.

The scheduled this season includes home games with South Dakota State September 27, Vanderbilt October 4, Stanford October 11, Indiana October 18, Northwestern November 1 and South Dakota University November 8. Michigan will be played at Ann Arbor November 15 and Wisconsin at Madison on November 22.

Asked as to his views, the chance for success playing Stanford, the coach ventured no opinion but simply crossed his fingers. There is a great difference in the appearance of Conches Spears and Crisler. Spears, tall and heavy, approached corpulence, while Crisler, brown and spare, seems ready for a cross country run.

The stadium field is a wonderful shape with the grass as firm and luxuriant as the finest golf course. Careful and constant attention preserved the field from any drought ravages.

With Brooklyn and St. Louis swinging back into action today, all four first division teams in the National League opened the drive down the home stretch. Although pennant hopes are still faintly entertained by the Cardinals and Giants, the Cubs seem to have the National League flag about clinched despite their recent slump, and the main battle threatens to be between the Cards, Giants and Robins for second place.

Even though the Cubs lost their fourth game in the last six played yesterday, they still retained a 4-game lead over their nearest rivals, the Cardinals. Paul Waner's home run in the ninth enabled the Pirates to beat the Cubs, 8-7, overcoming a six-run handicap in the last three innings.

The New York Giants lost their third straight game to the Boston Braves, 6-4, and dropped to third place 4½ games behind the Cubs and half a game behind the Cardinals.

After three open dates in a row, Brooklyn was scheduled to resume play today against the Phillies. Five and a half games behind the Cubs, Brooklyn's highest hope is to land in second place.

The Philadelphia Athletics held their 6½-game lead over Washington yesterday by beating the Boston Red Sox, 5-1, George Earnshaw pitching his 21st victory. Al Simmons connected for his 34th home run with a mate on base.

Washington pounded out a 14-5 victory over the New York Yankees, giving the Senators 17 games out of 21 played against the Yankees. It is the worst record the Yankees have made against any club since 1912 when the Boston Red Sox won 20 out of 22 games. Babe Ruth hit his 45th homer of the season, leaving him one behind Hack Wilson for the major league lead.

Pete Jablonowski held the White Sox to four hits, Cleveland defeating Chicago, 6-1. Johnny Hodapp, Cleveland second baseman, made three doubles, increasing his season's total to 46.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Tommy Freeman of Hot Springs, Ark., wore the crown of the world's welterweight championship today after outpointing Young Jack Thompson, in a 15-round bout last night.

Taking the offensive at the outset, Freeman swept the champion off his feet with rushes, long and short range punching, that won for him all but five of the rounds. One of these was a draw and the remaining four went to the champion. The decision of Patsey Haley, veteran New York referee,

MINNESOTA U COACH SPENT A SHORT VACATION IN LAKE REGION LAST MONTH

Close to 100 men have been called by Coach Fritz Crisler of the University of Minnesota to report for football practice beginning September 15. In the list are some from the vicinity of Brainerd, including Elmer Apmann of St. Cloud, Patrick Boland of Duluth, Mervin Dillner of Duluth, James W. Dennerly of Aitkin, William E. Farrell of Grand Rapids, Kenneth Gay of Moose Lake, Harry B. Hall of Little Falls, Sulo O. Koski of International Falls, Merle L. Newberg of William, Howard Nichols of St. Cloud, John P. Somers of International Falls.

The new equipment has arrived and Oscar Munson and his assistants were sorting it out. Coach Crisler is talking with a Brainerd Dispatch representative, called attention to the new style shoulder pads which carry the brunt of an attack and distribute the shock above, below and at the point of the shoulder and chest.

Crisler is acquainted with Brainerd, the lake country, Camp Lincoln, and what northern Minnesota has done in the way of making university football history. Mr. and Mrs. Crisler are friends of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Owens and were their guests some weeks ago at their cottage at Parkerville.

The scheduled this season includes home games with South Dakota State September 27, Vanderbilt October 4, Stanford October 11, Indiana October 18, Northwestern November 1, and South Dakota University November 8. Michigan will be played at Ann Arbor November 15 and Wisconsin at Madison on November 22.

Asked as to his views, the chance for success playing Stanford, the coach ventured no opinion but simply crossed his fingers. There is a great difference in the appearance of Coaches Spears and Crisler. Spears, tall and heavy, approached corpulency, while Crisler, brown and spare, seems ready for a cross country run.

The stadium field is a wonderful shape with the grass as firm and luxuriant as the finest golf course. Careful and constant attention preserved the field from any drought ravages.

carried with it the approval of 15,000 fans.

"How About THE Polo?"

By HARDIN BURNLEY

TOMMY HITCHCOCK—WHO LEADS THE U.S. POLO FOUR AGAINST THE BRITISH TEAM THIS WEEK-END.

TODAY the bluest blooded of all sports will be on display at the Meadowbrook Club, Westbury, L. I., when the British and American polo teams start their play for the famed international cup. It is a two-out-of-three match. The last time England won was in 1914, two straight then. The war postponed the next international until 1921. The Americans won then, in 1924, and also in 1927. And they look the strongest this year, don't you know, all this optimistic chatter about British pluck to the contrary notwithstanding.

With Eric Pedley looming as brilliantly as "Tommy" Hitchcock himself, with Elmer Boeske, Winston Guest and others showing class in practice worthy to qualify for Uncle Sam's "Four Horsemen," the immediate outlook is hardly propitious for the Hurlingham hopes from overseas.

True, John Bull has the extraordinary Lewis Lacey, an Argentine Englishman, already listed among polo's all-time backs. This mallet marvel is in his forties. He's the nearest thing to Devereaux Milburn foreign polioists have thus far revealed. Gerald Balding and Capt. "Pat" Roark are two other English regulars.

In addition, "Pat's" brother, Aidan, is contesting the No. 1 position with Capt. Richard George. Humphrey Guinness (don't shout "stout!") and the team's non-playing captain, Charles H. Tremane, will be the cynosure of all field glasses and binoculars this afternoon. The Hurlingham are proud of their sixty-seven ponies among which "White Blaze," "Manuel" and "Argentina" have almost legendary fame.

In America, polo is a sport for millionaires, their sons and rich associates. In England, that game is carried on still by its pioneers—those dashing army officers who take to chutney, monacles, whiskey and soda, etc., with tea for afternoon interludes. They bring to the international that touch of military éclat, the British manner, the devil-a-care swank that society ladies dote on almost as much as they discuss the latest titbit concerning "Eddie" the Prince, you know.

Yes, the fun ought to be top-ping; so let's go over to HIE polo! Copyright, 1930, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW COTTAGES TO MEET PINE BEACH DEMAND

Ten to be Constructed on Land Adjoining Hotel at a Cost of $15,000

FIRST YEAR SUCCESSFUL

Hotel Operator Pays Corporation $8,500; Over $35,000 Taken in

Success, due to good management, a fine hostelry, courteous service and excellent accommodations, greeted the operators of the Brainerd-Pine Beach Hotel throughout its first summer season and brought forth satisfactory returns to the Brainerd-Pine Beach Hotel Corporation, of which a number of progressive Brainerd business and professional men are investors.

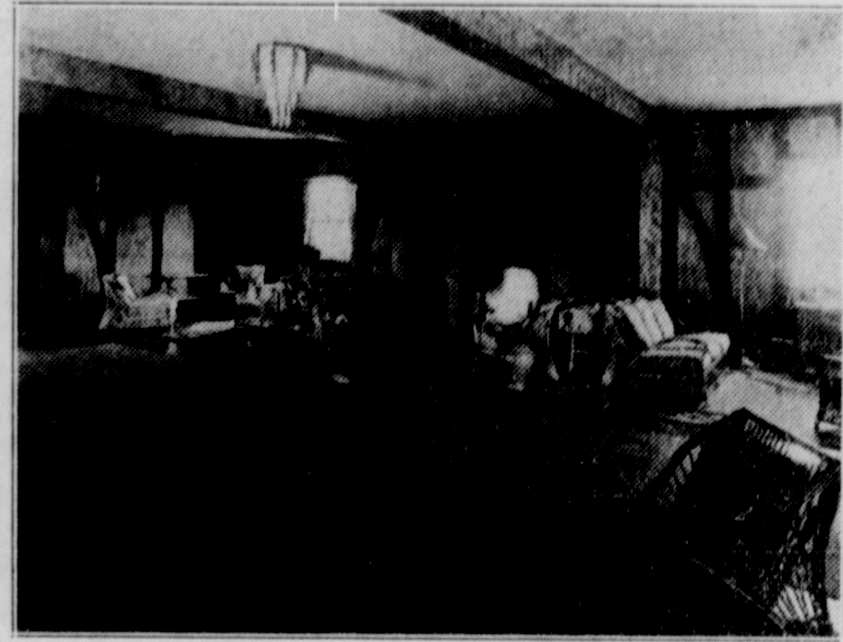

With the announcement that on the first check total receipts of the hotel for the summer surpassed $35,000 and standing majestically facing a lake of the bluest water and the greenest of foliage in the trees. They will see islands in the distance, bathers on the beach, motor boats whirling the waters and golfers driving balls down fairways of green.

Mecca for Tourists

The hotel's place as an attractive mecca for summer tourists is assured. The accommodations are all that can be desired. For instance, the patron wishes to go to the beach. He does not desire to walk through the crowds in the lobby and halls. What he does is to step from his room to the elevator and be carried to the ground floor where only a few steps bring him to the beach.

If he desires to play golf he walks a few steps to the first tee and can then play on a course which is destined to secure many important tour-

Arthur L. Roberts, hotel operator, paid the hotel corporation $8,500 which is $1,000 over the minimum rental stipulated in the contract comes the prediction that the 1931 season will be the start of a highly successful era for the Gull Lake project sponsored through the cooperation of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce during the regime of C. A. Ryan, Brainerd attorney, president.

To Build Cottages

Predicted increased business during coming seasons has lead the Board of Directors of the corporation to practically okay the construction of ten ultra modern sleeping cottages to be located on the ridge south of the hotel.

Construction work is scheduled to start late this fall, the cost of the nements in coming years. One of these the Central Minnesota Tournament will be played early next summer.

And that is not all. Excluding fire entertainment within the hotel, dinner dancing, bridge, etc., there are tennis courts, diving boards, fishing, boating, and horseback riding.

The hotel embodies the beautiful and practical. It is expensive and comfortably furnished. Each room has the charm of the home guest room, commanding a view of Wilson Bay or Gull Lake.

Well Equipped Guest Rooms

The guest rooms have individual color schemes with rugs, drapes, and furniture in harmonizing colors. All furniture is of steel. The beds are lavishly covered with expensive mat-

new development to be approximately $15,000, increasing the valuation of the hotel project to over $150,000, this figure excluding the valuation of the Pine Beach golf course considered among the leading golf courses in the state.

The new cottages will be equipped with hot and cold running water and the best sleeping accommodations. Each will have a modern fire place.

Officers of the Brainerd-Pine Beach Hotel Corporation who outlined plans for the new development at a meeting this week in the First National bank building at Brainerd are:

President—R. E. Wyett.
Vice President—John W. Harrison.
Secretary-Treasurer—B. L. Lagerquist.

Directors—R. E. Wyett, John W. Harrison, B. L. Lagerquist, C. H. Start, Theodore Schaefer, S. R. Adair and Arthur L. Roberts.

The cottages to be operated in connection with the hotel bring the total of new cottages to be built in the hotel vicinity to 30. Rutgers Incorporated of Bay Lake, having previously announced plans for the erection of 20 cottages on Wilson Bay at a cost of $30,000.

Mr. Roberts Pleased

"We enjoyed more business than our fondest expectations and we are delighted with the fine reception accorded us the first year both by Brainerd business men and everyone in the territory. We made many new friends and reservations already received for next season assure us that the 1931 season will be in every way successful," Mr. Roberts said before leaving. He closed the hotel yesterday.

Mr. Roberts characterized the entry of Rutger Brothers as the start of a huge summer resort development in the section of Gull and Wilson Lakes opened by the new hotel. He expressed himself as pleased with the interest shown.

People from all parts of the United States and Canada will recall to their friends this winter of their summer visit to the Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel on Gull Lake.

They will vision again a hotel treasures and colorful spreads. Furniture includes writing tables, vanities, dressers and upholstered chairs. Each room is equipped with telephone for hotel and outside service.

The basement is divided into rooms for employees, locker rooms, showers, recreational play rooms, and a children's room, barber and beauty shop, storage rooms, and a boiler room to furnish steam heat and hot water for the hotel and sleeping rooms.

The large lobby on the main floor with its impressive fire place, chandeliers, woodwork and furnishings is a room of extremely beautiful nature. The dining room adjoining is arranged to seat 100 people with accommodations for 150 at banquets. Its beamed ceiling adds to its attractive appearance. The popular porch overlooking Gull Lake is accessible from the lobby and dining room. Its beauty is one of the features of the hotel. Then there is the Ladies Powder Room and the card room with its large fire place. Each speaks of delightful charm.

The kitchen where delicious foods are prepared is one of spotless cleanliness. It is electrically equipped, containing a large Frigidaire and the latest of kitchen equipment. Food prepared by an expert chef and served by experienced help prove additional attractions to guests.

The second floor has a soda fountain and a porch entrance to the golf course where fountain service may be had. This floor has 23 guest rooms. Twenty-six rooms are arranged artistically on the third floor, including two and three room suites.

The fourth floor has 21 individual guest rooms, with or without bath. As desired the guest may engage a room with all modern accommodations with either north, south, east or west exposures.

Name Personnel of Hotel

The personnel of the hotel included: Arthur L. Roberts, Winona, president of the Roberts Hotel Corporation, operator; Misses Caroline Larson, Margaret Murray, joint resident managers; Miss Anah Campbell, in charge of the fountain; Mrs. Arthur L. Roberts, social hostess; Miss Billy Biesanz, social hostess in charge of children's activities; and Thomas Roberts, who assisted in the settlement period of the hotel who returned later in the season to Winona where he is resident manager of the Winona hotel.

DRY LAW BRINGS BETTER LIVING

SO ASSERTS FOUNDER OF HULL HOUSE; DISCUSSES WOMEN SUFFRAGE, MORALITY

Hulls Cove, Me., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Jane Maddams looked back through her 70 years of life today—a 70 years of life in which the majority have been spent in welfare work—and decided that longevity doesn't bring wisdom. "Wisdom can be secured only thru adaptation to a changing world," the founder of Hull House in Chicago said as she celebrated attainment of her three score and ten at her summer home here.

For the United Press she discussed unemployment, women in suffrage, so-called change of morality in the young of the country and looked forward to what social welfare will bring in the years to come.

Asked what in her opinion women had accomplished with suffrage, Miss Maddams said:

"Women have brought into politics a more careful consideration of both health and humanitarian questions and, through the League of Women Voters and similar organizations, are carefully preparing themselves to vote intelligently and to hold candidates to their platforms."

Discussing prohibition's effect on poverty and unemployment, the distinguished sociologist declared that the dry law had "doubtless secured a higher standard of living for the families of working men."

"What do you consider a likely remedy for the unemployment problem?" Miss Maddams was asked.

"Widespread measures established by employers and enacted by the government for insurance against unemployment and destitute old age," she replied.

"How do you think girls of today compare with those of a half century ago as regards morals?"

"Changing standards, although easily misinterpreted, do not necessarily affect basic morality," she replied.

LEGION VOTES TO REPEAL DRY LAW

"THE 18TH AMENDMENT HAS FOSTERED DRINKING" RESOLUTION STATED

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—A resolution favoring repeal of the 18th amendment was adopted today at the final session of the New York State convention of the American Legion. The vote for repeal was 370, against 166 for non-repeal. Sixteen voters declined to commit themselves.

"The 18th amendment has fostered excessive drinking of strong intoxicants and led to much hypocrisy," the resolution stated. It added that the amendment has "resulted in ruthless killings of men, women and children, and disregard for law and order." The country has been "flooded" with untaxed and illicit liquor, the resolution further stated.

"Older Than the Hills"

Man's history is brief compared to that of the tulip tree, according to the American Forestry association, for this giant of the woods is literally "older than the hills." Fossil remains reveal that back in the Cretaceous period before mountain-forming disturbances took place and when reptiles were dominant on land and in the sea, there were more than ten species of tulip trees in the temperate belt which then extended across Europe, Asia and North America.

Magnificent tulip trees are found in the Great Smoky National park, some of which are approximately 200 feet tall and are from six to ten feet in diameter. It has been said that the tulip is the finest deciduous tree on the North American continent.

Great Medical Discovery

A young Canadian surgeon, Dr. F. G. Banting, returned from four years of service at the front in the World war with the idea of the new remedy, insulin. He submitted his plans to Professor MacLeod of the University of Toronto, and under the latter's direction, with the assistance of Mr. C. H. Best and others, experiments were begun in May, 1921. After a preliminary trial of the remedy on himself, Doctor Banting saw the first case of diabetes to be treated with insulin to receive his injection in the Toronto General hospital, January 10, 1922. This date marks an important discovery in modern medicine.

From the Spanish

The word "fillbuster" is an English adaptation of the Spanish fillbustero, meaning a freebooter or buccaneer. The term was applied to a buccaneer, especially one of those infesting the West Indian and Spanish-American coasts in the Seventeenth century.

No Trouble at All

In this ungallant age it's still possible for a lady to get a seat almost anywhere if she has $257,000.

RADIO AND THE BYRD EXPEDITION

Now that the Byrd Antarctic expedition has returned in glorious triumph, one can look back and marvel at the way radio helped as well as kept us in constant touch with the party during its long months of isolation in the icy wilderness.

In this modern machine age, one is apt to take much for granted. Airplanes, high-speed motor cars, giant ocean liners, towering buildings, no longer thrill us. But there is something different about radio, something mysterious. The fact that one can send messages thousands of miles through free space, across bare ocean wastes, jungle forests of strange life, and distant lands never sighted by man, without the aid of wires or messengers and in a bare instant of time, is enough to thrill even sophisticated moderns.

A Great Achievement

Daily progress of the Byrd expedition was radioed to New York. In all, the station at "Little America" handled some 15,000 messages. Much practical and spectacular work was done in communication between the exploring planes and the base. This constant interchange of messages with the explorers while away from the base, had much to do with the fact that every man who went on the expedition returned with it alive.

Some remarkable radio records were achieved by the Byrd expedition. At one time the station at Little America was in communication with a station in Greenland—a distance almost from the South Pole to the North Pole. At another time communication was established with the Graf Zeppelin, as the latter circled the globe on its world tour. More remarkable perhaps than these feats was the fact that one of the exploring planes actually exchanged radio messages with New York City.

According to Admiral Byrd, the reception of especially-broadcast radio programs contributed greatly to the morale of the explorers during the long Antarctic night from April to August, when they were marooned from the rest of the world.

Truly radio is a mysterious and wonderful force that continues to thrill the world by its accomplishments.

NEW COTTAGES TO MEET PINE BEACH DEMAND

Ten to be Constructed on Land Adjoining Hotel at a Cost of $15,000

FIRST YEAR SUCCESSFUL

Hotel Operator Pays Corporation $8,500; Over $35,000 Taken in

Success, due to good management, a fine hostelry, courteous service and excellent accommodations, greeted the operators of the Brainerd-Pine Beach Hotel throughout its first summer season and brought forth satisfactory returns to the Brainerd-Pine Beach Hotel Corporation, of which a number of progressive Brainerd business and professional men are investors.

With the announcement that on the first check total receipts of the hotel for the summer surpassed $35,000 and standing majestically facing a lake of the bluest water and the greenest of foliage in the trees. They will see islands in the distance, bathers on the beach, motor boats whirling the waters and golfers driving balls down fairways of green.

Mecca for Tourists

The hotel's place as an attractive mecca for summer tourists is assured. The accommodations are all that can be desired. For instance, the patron does not desire to walk through the crowds in the lobby and halls. What he does is to step from his room to the elevator and be carried to the ground floor where only a few steps bring him to the beach.

If he desires to play golf he walks a few steps to the first tee and can then play on a course which is destined to secure many important tour-

social hostess in charge of children's activities; and Thomas Roberts, who assisted in the settlement period at the hotel who returned later in the season to Winona where he is resident manager of the Winona hotel.

DRY LAW BRINGS BETTER LIVING

SO ASSERTS FOUNDER OF HULL HOUSE; DISCUSSES WOMEN SUFFRAGE, MORALITY

Hulls Cove, Me., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—Jane Maddams looked back through her 70 years of life today—a 70 years of life in which the majority have been spent in welfare work—and decided that longevity doesn't bring wisdom.

"Wisdom can be secured only thru adaptation to a changing world," the founder of Hull House in Chicago said as she celebrated attainment of her three score and ten at her summer home here.

For the United Press she discussed unemployment, women in suffrage, so-called change of morality in the young of the country and looked forward to what social welfare will bring in the years to come.

Asked what in her opinion women had accomplished with suffrage, Miss Maddams said:

"Women have brought into politics a more careful consideration of both health and humanitarian questions and, through the League of Women Voters and similar organizations, are carefully preparing themselves to vote intelligently and to hold candidates to their platforms."

Discussing prohibition's effect on poverty and unemployment, the distinguished sociologist declared that the dry law had "doubtless secured a higher standard of living for the families of working men."

"What do you consider a likely remedy for the unemployment problem?" Miss Maddams was asked.

"Widespread measures established by employers and enacted by the government for insurance against unemployment and destitute old age," she replied.

"How do you think girls of today compare with those of a half century ago as regards morals?"

"Changing standards, although easily misinterpreted, do not necessarily affect basic morality," she replied.

LEGION VOTES TO REPEAL DRY LAW

"THE 18TH AMENDMENT HAS FOSTERED DRINKING" RESOLUTION STATE

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(U.P.)—A resolution favoring repeal of the 18th amendment was adopted today at the final session of the New York State convention of the American Legion. The vote for repeal was 370, against 166 for non-repeal. Sixteen voters declined to commit themselves.

"The 18th amendment has fostered excessive drinking of strong intoxicants and led to much hypocrisy," the resolution stated. It added that the amendment has "resulted in ruthless killings of men, women and children, and disregard for law and order." The country has been "flooded" with untaxed and illicit liquor, the resolution further stated.

"Older Than the Hills"

Man's history is brief compared to that of the tulip tree, according to the American Forestry association, for this giant of the woods is literally "older than the hills." Fossil remains reveal that back in the Cretaceous period before mountain-forming disturbances took place and when reptiles were dominant on land and in the sea, there were more than ten species of tulip trees in the temperate belt which then extended across Europe, Asia and North America.

Magnificent tulip trees are found in the Great Smoky National park, some of which are approximately 200 feet tall and are from six to ten feet in diameter. It has been said that the tulip is the finest deciduous tree on the North American continent.

Great Medical Discovery

A young Canadian surgeon, Dr. F. G. Banting, returned from four years of service at the front in the World war with the idea of the new remedy, insulin. He submitted his plans to Professor MacLeod of the University of Toronto, and under the latter's direction, with the assistance of Mr. C. H. Best and others, experiments were begun in May, 1921. After a preliminary trial of the remedy on himself, Doctor Banting saw the first case of diabetes to be treated with insulin to receive his injection in the Toronto General hospital, January 10, 1922. This date marks an important discovery in modern medicine.

To Build Cottages

Predicted increased business during coming seasons has lead the Board of Directors of the corporation to practically okay the construction of ten ultra modern sleeping cottages to be located on the ridge south of the hotel.

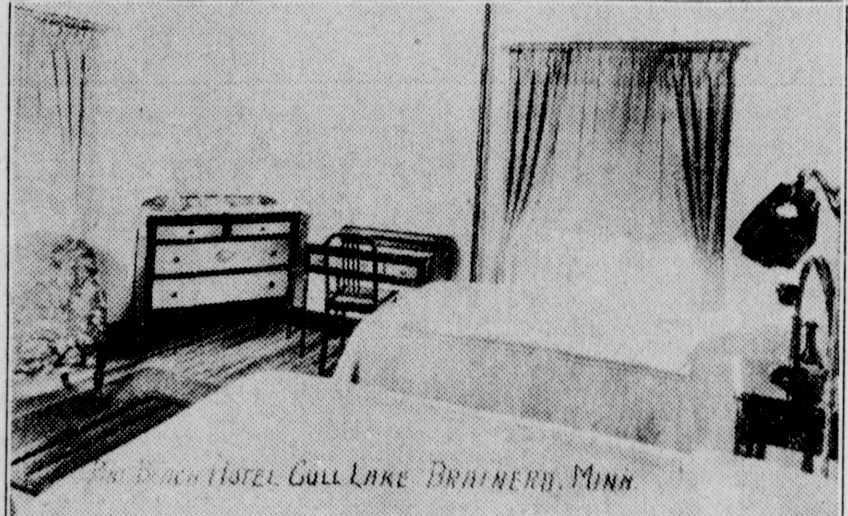

Construction work is scheduled to start late this fall, the cost of the nancements in coming years. One of these the Central Minnesota Tournament will be played early next summer.

And that is not all. Excluding fine entertainment within the hotel, dinner dancing, bridge, etc., there are tennis courts, diving boards, fishing, boating, and horseback riding. The hotel embodies the beautiful and practical. It is expensively and comfortably furnished. Each room has the charm of the home guest room, commanding a view of Wilson Bay or Gull Lake.

Well Equipped Guest Rooms

The guest rooms have individual color schemes with rugs, drapes, and furniture in harmonizing colors. All furniture is of steel. The beds are lavishly covered with expensive mat-

new development to be approximately $15,000, increasing the valuation of the hotel project to over $150,000, this figure excluding the valuation of the Pine Beach golf course considered among the leading golf courses in the state.

The new cottages will be equipped with hot and cold running water and the best sleeping accommodations. Each will have a modern fire place.

Officers of the Brainerd-Pine Beach Hotel Corporation who outlined plans for the new development at a meeting this week in the First National bank building at Brainerd are:

President—R. E. Wyett.
Vice President—John W. Harrison.
Secretary-Treasurer—B. L. Lagerquist.

Directors—R. E. Wyett, John W. Harrison, B. L. Lagerquist, C. L. Start, Theodore Schaefer, S. R. Adair and Arthur L. Roberts.

The cottages to be operated in connection with the hotel bring the total of new cottages to be built in the hotel vicinity to 30. Rutgers Incorporated of Bay Lake, having previously announced plans for the erection of 20 cottages on Wilson Bay at a cost of $30,000.

Mr. Roberts Pleased

"We enjoyed more business than our fondest expectations and we are delighted with the fine reception accorded us the first year both by Brainerd business men and everyone in the territory. We made many new friends and reservations already received for next season assure us that the 1931 season will be in every way successful," Mr. Roberts said before leaving. He closed the hotel yesterday.

Mr. Roberts characterized the entry of Rutger Brothers as the start of a huge summer resort development in the section of Gull and Wilson Lakes opened by the new hotel. He expressed himself as pleased with the interest shown.

People from all parts of the United States and Canada will recall to their friends this winter of their summer visit to the Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel on Gull Lake.

tresses and colorful spreads. Furniture includes writing tables, vanities, dressers and upholstered chairs. Each room is equipped with telephone for hotel and outside service.

The basement is divided into rooms for employees, locker rooms, showers, recreational play rooms, and a children's room, barber and beauty shop, storage rooms, and a boiler room to furnish steam heat and hot water for the hotel and sleeping rooms.

The large lobby on the main floor with its impressive fire place, chandeliers, woodwork and furnishings is a room of extremely beautiful nature. The dining room adjoining is arranged to seat 100 people with accommodations for 150 at banquets. Its beamed ceiling adds to its attractive appearance. The popular porch overlooking Gull Lake is accessible from the lobby and dining room. Its beauty is one of the features of the hotel. Then there is the Ladies Powder Room and the card room with its large fire place. Each speaks of delightful charm.

The kitchen where delicious foods are prepared is one of spotless cleanliness. It is electrically equipped, containing a large refrigerator and the latest of kitchen equipment. Food prepared by an expert chef and served by experienced help prove additional attractions to guests.

The second floor has a soda fountain and a porch entrance to the golf course where fountain service may be had. This floor has 23 guest rooms. Twenty-six rooms are arranged artistically on the third floor, including two and three room suites.

The fourth floor has 21 individual guest rooms, with or without bath. As desired the guest may engage a room with all modern accommodations with either north, south, east or west exposures.

ON MILL AVENUE

Louis Montgomery is Driver of Car; Boy is Resting Quietly in Hospital Here

Gunnard Larson, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Larson, 1110 Seventh avenue N. E. was painfully injured last night, when he was knocked off his bicycle by a car driven by Louis Montgomery on Mill avenue. The boy was immediately taken to St. Joseph's hospital where he is resting quietly today after receiving medical attention.

Both bones in the boy's left leg were broken about four inches above the ankle. He had two upper teeth knocked out and a long gash on his lower lip that required seven stitches to close the wound. He also received cuts on the left hip and right leg just above the knee, as well as scratches on his body.

The accident happened shortly before 9 o'clock last evening as the Larson boy and two companions were riding bicycles about two blocks south of the Brager store on Mill avenue. It is reported that the boys were without lights on their "bikes," and were traveling on the wrong side of the road.

Louis Montgomery, driver of the car who was accompanied by his brother, Frank, states that he was going along at about the rate of 18 or 20 miles an hour.

The force of the impact was so great that the bumper, radiator and one headlight of the Montgomery car were broken and the bicycle reduced to a twisted mass of wreckage.

THE ROMANCE
EVENTFUL

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE.

FAITH KILCUP had always looked upon Captain Noll Wing, of the whaler, Sally Sims, as a master and tower of strength, but shortly after their marriage he changed. Dissipation and old age were exacting their toll. The men of his crew no longer feared him. Faith was disillusioned. Dan'l Tobey, second mate, who loves Faith, vainly tries to discredit Noll before Faith. In a quarrel Noll kicks out the eye of Mauger, a member of the crew. Thereafter, he fears Mauger's vengeance. When the Sally Sims puts into a lonely island, Faith goes ashore. She meets an ex-sailor named Brander, who goes with her to join Noll's crew.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XIII.

WHEN Mr. Ham, waiting by the boat with his men, saw Faith coming, and saw the stranger at her side, he went to meet them. His bearing was inclined to truculence. Faith was ashore here in his charge; if this man had disturbed her—

Faith reassured him. "I've a hand for you, Mr. Ham," she called. "You need men."

Mr. Ham stopped ten paces from them, with legs spread wide. He looked from Faith to Brander. Brander smiled in a friendly way. "Can you use me?" he asked. "I know the work."

Mr. Ham frowned thoughtfully. "What's this, ma'am?" he asked Faith. "Who's that man?"

"Ask him," said Faith quietly. "I believe he wants to ship. I told him we were short."

The mate looked at Brander. His attitude toward Faith had been deferential; toward Brander he assumed unconsciously the terrorizing frown which he was accustomed to turn upon the men.

"What do you want?" he challenged. "To ship with you," Brander replied pleasantly.

"What are you doing here?" "I was third mate on the Thomas Morgan," said Brander.

"Cap'n Marks?" Mr. Ham asked. "Yes."

"We've no use for any o' Marks's mates aboard the Sally!" Brander smiled.

"I wasn't thinking of shipping as mate. Can you use a hand?"

"Where's the Thomas Morgan?" "On the Solander Grounds, like-ly."

"They've got the name on the Morgan of letting men go!" "They had no choice. They were—otherwise engaged when I took my leave."

"That's a slovenly ship," said Mr. Ham.

"One reason why I'm not on her now."

The mate frowned. "I'm not saying it's not in your favor that you got away from them, and we do need men. Men, not officers," he added hastily.

"That suits me."

Mr. Ham looked around. Faith stood a little at one side, listening quietly.

"Well, come aboard," said the mate. "See what the old man says."

Brander nodded. "Thanks, sir," he said.

He adopted, easily and without abatement, the attitude of a foot-mate hand toward the officer, and went ahead of the mate and Faith to stow his bundle in the boat. The other men waiting there questioned him; but they all fell silent as Mr. Ham and Faith came to where the boat lay on the sand.

Tichel had already taken the watercasks out to the whaler. The men took the whale-boat and dragged it down to the water. When it was half afloat, Faith and the mate got in. The men shoved off, wading till the water was deep enough for them to clamber aboard, snatch their oars, and push out through the rollers. They labored desperately for a little till they were clear of the turbulent waters of the beach, then settled to their work.

Brander sat amidships, his bundle at his feet, lending a hand now and then on the oar of the man who faced him. Once he looked toward Faith; she met his eyes.

Neither spoke, neither smiled. The island was receding behind them; Brander turned to watch it. They drew alongside the Sally.

Dan'l Tobey was at the rail to receive them. The mate stood in the tossing boat and lifted Faith

"We don't need an officer," Dan'l suggested.

Brander sensed the fact that Dan'l disliked him; he wondered at it.

"I'm asking to ship as a seaman, sir," he said.

Mr. Ham looked at Dan'l. "Best speak to the captain?" he asked.

"Oh, set him ashore!" Dan'l exclaimed. "He's a trouble-maker. Too wise for the fo'c's'le!" He looked at Brander insolently.

"Can't you see he's a man of education, Mr. Ham? What would he want to ship before the mast for?" Mr. Ham looked puzzled.

"How about it," he asked Brander sharply.

Brander smiled. "I did it, in the beginning, for sport," he said. "Now I'm doing it to get home if you need a man. If not, I'll go ashore."

Faith, standing by, spoke quietly. "Ship him, Mr. Ham," she said. "Her words were not a request; they were a command. Dan'l looked at her swiftly, shrewdly. Mr. Ham obeyed, with the instant instinct of obedience to that tone. It was not till days later that easily to Dan'l at the rail; Dan'l swung her aboard. Mr. Ham followed, then Brander, then the men. The mate saw to the unloading of the boat and saw it safely stowed. Then he turned to Brander.

"Come and see the old man," he said. Dan'l Tobey heard.

"He's asleep," he told Mr. Ham. "Who is this?"

"He wants to ship," the mate said. "Says he was on the Thomas Morgan."

"The captain's wife found him in the bush," Mr. Ham added.

"Beach-comber—eh?" Dan'l drawled.

"No sir," Brander said respectfully. "I lived on the hill there—the highest one. You can make out my place with the glass."

"He was third mate on the Morgan," said Mr. Ham.

Faith wondered why she had spoken, wondered why she had ventured to command, and wondered why Mr. Ham obeyed. It gave her, somehow, a sense of power. He had obeyed her as he would have obeyed Noll, her husband.

At that moment, however, having spoken, she went below. She went quickly, a little confused. She found Noll asleep, as Dan'l had said; she did not wake him.

The Sally got to sea. The island fell into the sea beyond them. Before it was fully gone, Faith, with the captain's glass, had searched that highest hill from the windows of the after cabin. She discerned a little clearing, a rude hut—Brander's home.

She watched it for a space; then put the glass aside with thoughtful eyes.
